

THE NATIONAL UMPIRE TRAINING SCHOOL

NSA, after many years of planning, introduces the National Umpire Training School. The program is concentrated on teaching the proper mechanics as preferred by NSA with the goal of achieving more consistency throughout the NSA program.

The training staff is made up of NSA veteran umpires and a director who will travel the country to put on the two day clinics at a location requested by a state, local or regional association. The clinic will include classroom presentations, and field drills and field instruction for umpires of all experience levels. It is highly recommended if you get the opportunity to attend one of these clinics that you take advantage and make this a must-do activity.

Clinics are offered annually from October 1 through March 31. All clinics will be coordinated by the Directors or UIC's with the National Director of Umpires at NSA headquarters.

Additional information and a planning document with clinic information is available by contacting the school director Mr. Lou Davis at LouTheUmp@aol.com or by phone at 425 238 7385.
